ABOUT US

Bettystown House

A 17th-Century Manor Reimagined

In April 2022, the historic Betaghstown House, a 17th-century gem dating back to 1630, began an exciting new chapter under the stewardship of the Ryan family, renowned culinary innovators and passionate custodians of Irish heritage.

This third-generation family has embarked on an ambitious restoration project, breathing new life into this remarkable estate while preserving its grandeur and historical integrity. Now known as Bettystown House, the property is a luxurious country retreat in the heart of Bettystown, County Meath, just a short stroll from the golden sands of Bettystown Beach.

Set across 13 acres, the estate offers lush formal gardens, serene woodland paths, mature parkland, a grass paddock and a picturesque pond, creating a tranquil sanctuary only moments from some of Ireland's most celebrated attractions.

The Ryans bring with them a proven track record in heritage conservation, most notably the transformation of a 500-year-old Protestant church into the award-winning TRIBE Restaurant. Their philosophy is rooted in respect for history, sustainability and exceptional hospitality.

Originally built by the Betagh family, whose name remains woven into the fabric of the region, the house stands as a testament to centuries of Irish history. Despite losing ownership during the Cromwellian conquest of 1649, much of the home's 17th-century character endures, including its steeply pitched slate roof and iconic red-brick chimneystacks.

Today, Bettystown House blends timeless elegance with modern comfort, offering guests an unforgettable experience that honours the past while welcoming the future.
